Mrs. N. M. Reiff Is Selected As President-elect for State Medical Association Auxiliary

Mrs. N. M. Reiff

A Washington C. H. woman today holds one of the two top positions in the Ohio State Medical Association Auxiliary; this is the women's branch of the Ohio State Medical Association.

She is Mrs. N. M. Reiff, known to hundreds of friends in the community, affectionately, as either Martha or Marty.

Mrs. Reiff was elected and installed as president-elect Thursday at the state convention in Cleveland. She will serve one year as president-elect and next year she will be installed as president in the stipulated order of succession for officers of the organization.

As president-elect, Mrs. Reiff explained Friday after her return from Cleveland, she will serve as the first assistant to Mrs. Paul Woodward, who was installed as president of the auxiliary after her year as president-elect.

MRS. REIFF is a native of Gadsden, Ala., but has lived in Washington C. H. for the past 16 years. She and Dr. Reiff met while students at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, and that college romance blossomed into matrimony.

They lived for a time in Springfield and then Cleveland before coming to Washington C. H. to make their home.

An energetic woman, and bubbling with enthusiasm, Mrs. Reiff took the lead in the organization of the Fayette County Medical Association Auxiliary in 1946 and was its first president.

She has taken an active part in nearly all civic and community programs ever since she first came here. Only this year, she headed the campaign here to raise money for the Cancer Society.

In the state Medical Auxiliary, she was the public relations chairman for the last two years and for the two years before that she was the head of this nine-county district.

Dr. and Mrs. Reiff have two daughters, Sally, who will be a high school senior, and a son, who will be a high school senior.

Election Here Cost $1.17 Per Vote

The recent primary election cost the taxpayers of Fayette County approximately $5,560, or about $1.17 each for everyone of the 4,746 votes cast in the county.

Total cost of precinct officials was $3,307. The next largest sin-

World's Doings Leave Little Man Confused

By JAMES MARLOW

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23 — (AP)—Although walking around in broad daylight, the Little Man felt it was 4 o'clock in the morning, still dark outside, and he was lying in bed, wide awake, listening to the night sounds, waiting for daylight to come and clear things up.

It was an unreal feeling. It made him fuzzy in the head. He always felt all right when he could figure two and two make four, particularly when everybody else agreed at the same time that two and two make four. He was trying to tell himself: I feel all right when I can follow the rule book.

But now, somehow, everything seemed at sixes and sevens. Too many big things were happening for him to keep them all clear in his head and some of the old rules weren't any good any more. They seemed out of date. Like war. War used to be simply war. But not war with Communism.

Only Thursday Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, fresh from running the war in Korea, told Congress further bargaining is out of the question and the issue of war or peace is up to the Communists.

For 10 months Ridgway's men have been talking truce with the Communists and now, Ridgway seemed to be saying, there was not much left to talk about but both sides might keep talking because neither seemed at this minute anxious to start a full-scale war going again.

The buildup in Europe brought the Little Man's thinking back home to this country where Congress is working on a foreign aid bill which President Truman says is the backbone of this country's foreign program.

Eisenhower said Congress might cut the money the President asked for a bit, and things would still come out all right, but he said if Congress lopped off more than $1 billion it might endanger the military buildup.

But Sen. Taft, campaigning here at home against Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, said he favored a $2 billion cut. These were the big leaguers, Eisenhower and Taft, so the Little Man couldn't tell—this early—who was right. There wasn't any rule book on that one.

But Thursday night a majority in the House seemed to side more with Taft than Eisenhower because the House voted a cut in foreign aid closer to Taft's figure than to Eisenhower's. All this foreign stuff got the Little Man twisted in the head but not so much as things at home.

After two weeks of talk the Senate Thursday night passed the immigration bill which President Truman might veto, thus knocking two weeks' work into a cocked hat, and the President himself was in the midst of stuff the Little Man got dizzy trying to follow.

The steel case, the cleanup of government corruption which never seems to get started. The Little Man got out a pencil and began to write down everything that has him puzzled. He used up two note books and was starting on a third as this was being written. . . .

Presidential Curb Bill Awaits Vote

Regulation Would Prohibit Seizure Of Private Property

WASHINGTON, May 23 — (AP)—Proposed legislation which would put Congress on record as declaring the President has no inherent power under the Constitution to seize private property comes up for a vote by the House Judiciary Committee Monday.

The provision was written by a subcommittee into a war powers extension bill and stems directly from President Truman's seizure of the steel mills to avert a threatened strike.

That issue now is before the Supreme Court for decision.

If the court should decide the president does have inherent power to seize industrial facilities, the proposed House declaration apparently would become little more than an expression of congressional intent since it could not supercede the Constitution. The President could ignore such congressional resolution.

But as written into the war powers bill by the subcommittee, it says flatly that any such seizure is unauthorized and directs that "no such seizure or taking shall hereafter be made except in pursuance of specific statutory authority."

IT FURTHER declares that neither the President nor any other agency of the executive branch shall have the power to prescribe any changes in wages, hours, work conditions or other terms of employment in any seized plant, or to increase the prices of the plant's products. It would void any such changes ordered by the government since April 1.

The stiffly worded anti-seizure declaration was written as an amendment to a bill to continue 49 of the President's emergency powers until June 30, 1953.

The President told his news conference Thursday he will abide by the Supreme Court's decision, but he also said he has inherent authority to seize private property in emergencies.

Asked whether neither the courts nor Congress could take it away, Truman replied nobody can do that. And he said he saw no conflict between that statement and his assertion he will abide by the court's ruling.

The President said he would turn the steel companies back to their owners and see what would happen, if the court holds seizure was illegal.

Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) said Truman was absolutely right in declaring he has such power. And the Oregon lawmaker indicated he believes the Supreme Court will rule in effect that the President can't be deprived of it.

25 Million In Road Fixup Is Planned

COLUMBUS, May 23 — (AP)—The State Highway Department is wrapping up plans for $25 million worth of new road and bridge projects to be contracted for in June and July.

The projects will be part of a $45 million construction program for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. None of the money can be spent until after July. The department ran out of money for new construction for the current year two months ago.

Bids will be opened on some of the projects June 17 and on others July 22. All the plans are subject to last-minute revision and bid-letting dates are only tentative in some cases.

One of the biggest projects is a new bridge across the Muskingum River at Marietta, estimated to cost about $2 million.

The most costly project, estimated at about $5 million, is a 2½-mile extension of the East Memorial Shoreway, a traffic interchange and sea wall along Lake Erie in Cleveland. The shoreway eventually will run from the heart of Cleveland to its suburbs.

Another big construction project, scheduled for contracting in June or July, is a seven-mile relocation of U. S. Route 25, (Dixie Highway) on ball pending an appeal before the fourth circuit court of appeals.

Frankfeld said he was thrown out of work as an organizer and public relations representative for the Communist Party of Maryland and Washington, D. C. The Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, had said Frankfeld was relieved because of deviation from party policies.

The Department of Employment Security denied Frankfeld's claim ruling "that a person convicted of crime, although at large on bail pending appeal, is not available for work."

Frankfeld filed an appeal of that decision with superior court. He maintains he was available for public relations employment even while on trial, saying he could work at night.

KOREAN ARMISTICE PARLEY IS RECESSED

Plans for Memorial Day Here Are Beginning To Take Form

Plans for Memorial Day observances here today were beginning to take definite form under the guidance of representatives of veterans and patriotic organizations.

For the most part, the services will follow the traditional and time-proven pattern.

There will be the customary parade through the heart of Washington C. H. to the Washington C. H. Cemetery and St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery.

In the line of march will be all of the organizations of veterans, patriotic groups, Company M of the Ohio National Guard, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

It will be headed, as it has been for many years, by the Washington C. H. High School band.

Col. Rell G. Allen, who has been in every Memorial Day parade here since 1887, with the exception of the two years when he was in the army overseas during the first World War, is to be the marshal of the parade again this year. He marched in all of them until last year.

Although Col. Allen said he did not feel able to march over the three-mile route this year either, he has agreed to direct the formation of the parade lines on Market Street between North and Hinde Streets. Col. Allen, with typical military authority and precision, has given notice that the parade will start at the bell of the Court House clock strikes 10 next Friday morning.

REV. HAROLD J. BRADEN, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and an army chaplain overseas during the second World War, is to deliver the Memorial Day address at the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

The parade is to go through Court Street from Hinde Street directly to the cemetery over Washington Avenue.

After the services there, it is to move to St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery, on Elm Street, just south of Washington Avenue, for tributes to the honored dead there.

Similar Memorial Day services have been planned for virtually every town in the state.

Pair Is Told Not To Talk To Each Other

AKRON, May 23 — (AP)—A judge has ordered John M. Smith and his wife, Bessie, not to talk about what currently is the most important event in their lives.

By a coincidence without parallel in recent Ohio history, the Smiths are serving together on a murder trial jury. The husband, an employee of a local rubber company, is juror No. 1, and his wife is juror No. 12.

They are hearing the first degree murder case against James Woodley who is accused of slaying his estranged wife, Elizabeth, 22, on Christmas night. The state is asking the death penalty; the defense is pleading insanity.

After opening testimony Thursday, Common Pleas Judge Claude Emmons admonished the jury "including the Smith family" not to talk the case over among themselves.

Until the Smiths came along, chances of a husband and wife serving on the same jury seemed practically impossible. Names are picked by a numbering system from lists of voters, placed in a hopper and drawn for interviews. Later the names are drawn again for specific jury panels.

Western Union Strike Near End, But 2 Big 'Ifs' Seen

WASHINGTON, May 23 — (AP)—Union and company officials agreed Friday on terms for ending the Western Union strike. The agreement provides for a wage increase for the union, but only if the company gets government permission to boost telegraph tolls.

The 30,000 Western Union employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, have been on strike for 51 days. Under the terms, the earliest date for resumption of full-scale telegraph service would be Monday.

The agreement was reached after an all-night session climaxing a week of intensive negotiations. It included two big ifs:

1. Western Union must get federal authority to increase telegraph rates.

2. The pact must be ratified by the membership of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union. A union spokesman said such ratification is in doubt.

Basic terms of the contract involve these things:

1. A shift from the 48-hour work week to one of 40 hours, with no change in pay, for those hired before Nov. 1, 1941.
2. A flat 10-cent-an-hour increase for workers hired after that date.
3. Abandonment of the union shop among WU employees but establishment of what a mediation spokesman called an "agency shop."
4. Employees working 35 hours a week would get a flat $22-a-month increase.
5. Messengers would receive an increase of five cents an hour.

Commies Told Allies Standing Pat On Issues

Industrial Areas

MUNSAN, May 23 — (AP)—Red delegates Friday agreed to a three-day recess in the tightly deadlocked Korea armistice talks after the Allies' new chief delegate told them that "our stand is unshakable; we will make no further concessions."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, who has been demanding daily meetings at Panmunjom, agreed to the recess.

But he demanded Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., new senior UN delegate, set the time of resuming the talks.

Harrison told newsmen he made the recess short "because we want to get an armistice."

The next plenary session — the 67th since negotiations began more than 10 months ago — will be held Tuesday.

An hour after the meeting adjourned, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, former chief Allied delegate, left the UN advance camp here.

HE EXPRESSED confidence "an equitable and honorable armistice" will be achieved.

Joy will become superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

An armistice is blocked by the refusal of the UN Command to force return of any captured Reds who say they will resist repatriation to Communist rule. The Reds demand their return.

Less than half the 169,000 Allied held prisoners have said they would return voluntarily, a UN screening showed.

Harrison again offered to let the Communists participate in a re-screening of the prisoners. The Reds refused.

Trucker's Trick Fails To Work

WILMINGTON, May 23 — (AP)—George Quinn, 22, of Bucyrus was caught twice Thursday on charges of having an overloaded truck and he finally wound up by being fined $149.80 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Quinn, hauling a load of hogs from Wilmington to Bucyrus, was caught near here the first time. State Highway Patrolmen, checking his truck, found it overloaded and told him to come back here and reduce the weight.

Instead, he took another route out of Wilmington and then was stopped again at Lancaster.

Potatoes Stolen In Big Batches

COLUMBUS, May 23 — (AP)—Potatoes are getting so scarce in Columbus they're being stolen by the carload.

Herb Califf, president of the William Califf & Sons Produce House, told police thieves broke into the place during the night and stole 8900 pounds of potatoes. Califf estimated the loss at about $880.

4 Workers Hurt In Powder Plant

COLUMBUS, May 23 — (AP)—Four workers were injured, one critically, in a flash fire that broke out in the photo powder loading shed of Kilgore, Inc., in Westerville late Thursday.

The firm manufactures pyrotechnics and plastics. Lee Marvin Selby, 18, of Centerville was reported in critical condition in a Columbus hospital with second and third-degree burns. Three others injured were treated and released in Westerville Medical Center. All were working in the shed when the fire broke out.

Remember Steve Shay?
He was the WHS Lion football coach for four years, starting with 1937.

Well, he was back here for a quick visit with some of his old friends here, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. McCoy of the Good Hope Road, whose son, Langdon (Corky) McCoy, was playing football about that time.

With him were Mrs. Shay, the former Miss Ruth Oviatt of the WHS faculty, and their two children, a daughter, 7, and a son, 5 years old.

The former WHS coach is now Major Shay of the United States Air Force. He enlisted near the start of World War II and became a pilot. He was seriously injured when he had to bail out of a disabled fighter plane in Texas but, eventually recovered and took to air again.

Discharged after the war, he went into business in Philadelphia for a short time and then re-enlisted in the Air Force. He was stationed at a base on Long Island and then was assigned to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Mrs. Shay and their two children joined him there where they have been living for the last three years. They returned to this country April 16.

The Shay family stopped here while en route to Montgomery, Ala., where he is to be stationed at Maxwell Field.

While he did not have the time to see all his old friends, Mrs. McCoy said he asked about all of them. . . . and that he had forgotten very few.

Reckless Driver Goes to the BIS

A 17-year-old boy, charged with reckless operation of an automobile, and against whom complaints had been made previously and he had been deprived of his driving rights at one time, drew a sentence to the Boys Industrial School when he was taken before Juvenile Court Judge Rell G. Allen this week.

One night last week police picked up the trail of the boy who was driving recklessly, and for several miles he was chased about the city, and finally outdistanced the police cruiser on the CCC Highway and escaped.

He had disregarded red lights and crossed some of the main street intersections at 70 miles an hour while trying to shake the police.

In one instance he barely escaped causing a wreck while driving 70 miles an hour on Market Street.

He was taken before the juvenile court and sentenced accordingly.

Friends made strong efforts to have his sentence reduced, but Judge Allen remained firm for the original sentence, and said the youth will be taken to the institution Monday of next week.

us," the American general declared. "We know our position is sound."

Nam II again accused the Allies of slaughtering captured Reds. He added:

"Your aim in retaining our captured personnel is to send them to the Chinese Nationalist Chiang Kai-Shek gang on Formosa and to the Syngman Rhee clique to serve as cannon fodder to extend the war."

Harrison said this was "not worthy of an answer."

Meanwhile, UN warplanes smashed a huge industrial complex southwest of Pyongyang in the culmination of what the Air Force called the greatest saturation bombing attack of the Korean war.

The attack near the North Korean capital began Thursday morning and ended at 4 p. m. Friday. Nearly 800 fighter-bomber sorties were flown against the fat target.

Burned and blasted in the assault were a Communist hand grenade arsenal, the surface works of a coal mine, storehouses and nearly a half-mile of machine shops and warehouses. They were along the north bank of the Taedong River between Pyongyang and its port city, Chinnampo.

The Fifth Air Force said it threw every type of plane it had into the strike.

BURDEN of the attack was carried by F-84 Thunderjets of the 49th and 136th Fighter - Bomber Wings. They splashed the area with bombs, rockets, jellied gasoline and machinegun fire.

Supporting the Thunderjets were F-80 Shooting Stars, Mustangs, Corsairs, Sky Raiders and Australian Meteor Jets.

During the night B-26s continued bombing the area.

After the Reds' ground guns were silenced, fighter - bombers dropped 500 and 1,000-pound bombs rocketed the area and splashed it with napalm.

OF HER ELEVATION TO
president-elect of the state auxiliary, Mrs. Reiff said modestly, "I only hope I can fill the position... it is so important and I feel I have so little experience... my year as president-elect will be a big help."

"Of course," she added, "I feel highly honored... but I feel very humble, too, over trust and confidence that has been placed in me."

She said she was counting on the members of the county auxiliary to help her and advise her in her new position.

Mrs. J. E. Rose, Mrs. Byers Shaw and Mrs. Marvin Rossmann of the county auxiliary were at the convention with Mrs. Reiff.

Dr. Rose, Dr. Persinger, Dr. Shaw and Dr. Rossmann also were in Cleveland at the same time for the convention of the Ohio State Medical Association.

Dr. Harve M. Clodfelter of Columbus was elected president of the association with Dr. Paul A. Davis of Akron in line to succeed him next spring.

Clodfelter, assistant professor of medicine at Ohio State University, was installed at the closing session of the OSMA's house of delegates

Economy Can Prove Powerful Defense Weapon

Whether it be the federal government, or any state, county or city form of government, there is no logical reason for waste. It breeds corruption.

It is time that all officials of this country who are constantly talking about the needs for defense, which nobody questions, should also act on the theory that rigid economy is, in itself, a powerful weapon of defense.

The Committee for Economic Development has made a searching study of President Truman's proposed budget. It finds that the $10,400,000,000 cash deficit which is indicated can be eliminated without raising taxes or damaging the security programs in any way.

First, the committee says in its report, actual expenditures for military functions of the defense department and for foreign military aid will lag at least $3,500,000,000 behind the president's estimate of $58,000,000,000, "even assuming adoption of the whole presidential program."

Second, it observes, another $4,000,000,000 can be saved by eliminating waste and inefficiency in the military programs.

Third, it recommends that about $2,800,000,000 be cut from the $26,700,000,000 proposed for other than military and foreign aid expenditures.

A number of other studies of the budget have been made by authoritative groups and organizations. It is significant that almost all of them, even though they differ over some details, indicate that the budget can be cut in the neighborhood of $10,000,000,000 without harming the national security.

They argue that this must be done, lest a new wave of inflation which would further undermine our security be started.

Waste in military spending is every bit as bad as any other waste. The taxpayers are entitled to a dollar's worth of goods and services for each dollar spent—whether that dollar goes through the hands of the defense department or the Post Office.

Sky Fear

What scientists agree was a giant meteor exploded over the city of Seattle with no damage except to the nerves of the people. Under ordinary circumstances such an occurrence would be regarded as nothing more than a celestial phenomenon, but after months of reports of flying saucers and fear of guided missiles the incident took on a more sinister aspect.

So certain have the people become that destruction will come from the heavens they see in anything unusual in the sky a portent of the end of earthly security. Nor will they be satisfied with scientific explanations of the Seattle incident, so certain are they that it was a man-made contrivance sent over with harmful intent.

There is no ground for such belief. If Russia intends to bomb this nation, there will be no experiments. The Reds won't tip their hand by displaying samples.

Within Ourselves

Human destiny is dependent on voluntary self-control, on human intelligence and integrity, industry an inward energy. Our salvation lies wholly within ourselves. It cannot be gained or guaranteed by 'enforceable laws', statute books, constitutions, commandments, government handouts, or any of the rest of the paraphernalia of external controls.

This sort of government dictation, for political expediency, has been misleading the American people far too long.

Facts to Baffle Your Friends --

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—The oddity almanac:
Remember the old Dagmar?
...Sainy sides, great on curves and carried a front and rear bumper.

The Dagmar (1922-1927) was just one of 2,500 kinds of automobiles made in America since the turn of the century. Only 21 survive today in this fiercely competitive industry. Studebaker, which started making covered wagons 100 years ago, claims to be the oldest firm still in existence. But Dad or Granddad will recall going courting in cars bearing such vanished trade names as Mercer, Rickenbacker, Oldfield, Maxwell, Velie and Stutz Bearcat.

Speaking of covered wagons, did you know that some 1.7 million Americans now live in trailer coaches? In 12 years the industry's annual sales jumped from $10 million to $248 million. The length of the standard trailer has increased from 15 feet to 30 and you can buy 'em up to 45 feet. These have four rooms and stall showers. Until the government entered the market, 68 per cent of the trailers were bought by defense workers, 25 per cent by servicemen. Suggested in a 1947 theme song: "Oh, the Sun Shines Bright On My Old Kentucky Trailer."

Government economy note: Industrialist Fred A. Wirt says the federal debt of about $260 billion means that "every infant born in the U. S. assumes, the second he or she draws breath, a debt of $1,700." Maybe that explains why the first thing babies do in this world is to break out crying. Who wants a mortgage on his diaper at birth?

Fact - is - stranger - than-fiction department: The Columbia Gazetteer says only 30 Russian towns are named after Stalin to 36 for Sergei Kirov, a Soviet bigwig assassinated in 1934. Many of the coach dogs you see in firehouses never hear the firebell; the Dalmatian breed has a high percentage of deafness. Tulips, now commonplace, were worth more than their weight in gold after they were introduced into Holland from Turkey in 1565. Such a mania for them swept Europe that a single tulip bulb once sold for a load of grain, four oxen, 12 sheep, five pigs, two tubs of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, four barrels of beer, two hogheads of wine, a suit of clothes and silver drinking cup.

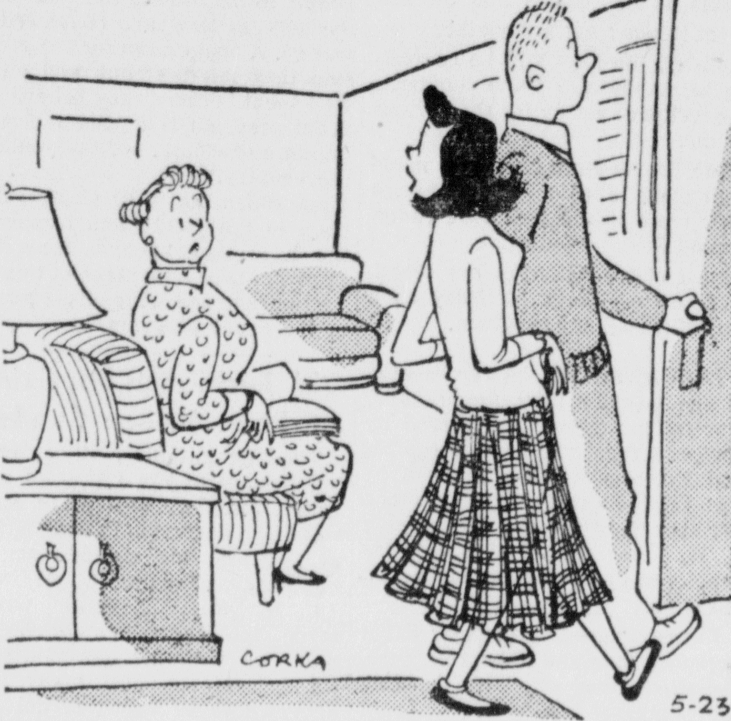

After a drop in value like that you'd think a tulip would be ashamed to hold up its head today. Children-and - small - animals department: A report has just reached us from Australia of the arrest of a kangaroo for shoplifting. Its owner had trained it to steal items and hide them in its pouch. Detectives seized the kangaroo when an alarm clock it had secreted on its person unexpectedly began to ring. The surprised animal immediately made a full confession and blamed the whole thing on its owner. (Editor's note: This newspaper is unable to vouch for all of the strange facts in Boyle's almanac—particularly this one.)

Editorial: The tax Foundation says that the average American today is paying 32 cents out of every dollar for direct or hidden taxes. This is true of everybody except hermits in the woods. Well, we say, why should hermits be a privileged class? When is the government going to hunt down these life-dodgers, bring them to town and make them pay their fair share of the load for civilization, w h e t h e r they want it or not? It's about time, say we.

Monthly sports forecasts: The New York Giants will soon go into a sharp slump, and when they emerge Manager Leo Durocher's hair will be thinner than ever. At least three former world's champion boxers will sadly opine that fighters aren't what they were in the good old days. Well, who is?

Pregnancy After 40 Sometimes Dangerous

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
From a doctor's point of view, the best time for a woman to have a baby is in young adulthood—between the ages of 20 and 24.

Of course, this does not mean that an older woman should not have a baby. Many women add to their families after 40, and some even have their first baby at that age. Very often, pregnancy gives the older woman a new feeling of youth.

Some Statistics

When we look at the over-all figures, however, we find that childbirth between 20 and 24 years of age is six times as safe as between 40 and 44. And pregnant women over 45 give us six times the mortality found in the 20 to 24 group. On the other hand, we find that in the United States the chance that a mother over 40 will survive is better than 200 to 1.

There are several reasons behind these statistics. As we all know, complications can be more serious in an older woman. She is more likely to have such conditions as thyroid disorder, high blood pressure, blood vessel disorders, kidney trouble and overweight. Toxemia of pregnancy is also more common in older patients, as well as deliveries in which the baby's feet precede its head.

Older Women's Fears

Many older women fear childbirth. If they become pregnant, they tend to be extremely anxious about their diets and other simple matters.

My advice to these women is to remember that an individual can change statistics as far as her own case is concerned. To do this, she should place herself under the care of a physician early, so that he can watch her progress throughout pregnancy and prevent any severe complications. The doctor will check his patient's blood pressure and general physical condition at frequent intervals. He should also have a chance early in pregnancy to test for thyroid difficulty or any type of heart or kidney disorder that may be present.

Feeling of Rejuvenation

It is an interesting fact that many older women who become pregnant experience a feeling of rejuvenation of the body during and after pregnancy. Many of these women feel 100 per cent better on becoming pregnant.

We can see from this that a woman over 40 need have no fear of pregnancy. As far as she is concerned, the statistics mean that she should not neglect to put herself under a physician's care early in her pregnancy, so that he can watch her with extra care.

Story of Whittaker Chambers

By George Sokolsky

An autobiography is the difficult of all literary designs and few of them have survived the centuries. Herbert Hoover, in the second volume of his autobiography, "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover," says of this:

"Four of the thirty-two presidents of the United States have ventured into the field of autobiography. They were John Quincy Adams, Ulysses S. Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, and Calvin Coolidge. The diaries of James K. Polk also possibly belong in this category.

"Every autobiography has a major justification. It presents the participation of an individual among forces and events which, if recorded, contribute pieces of mosaic to the historian. From these pieces he creates great murals of human experience—with the hope that they will illuminate the way of human progress."

Whittaker Chambers has written an autobiography, entitled "Witness," a segment of which has already been published in "The Saturday Evening Post." The prefatory letter to his children has been read on the radio and television and is known to millions of Americans.

The autobiography is important from two standpoints.

This is the story of hundreds, if not thousands of young Americans who, during the years of the depression, found themselves utterly bewildered by the circumstances of the moment. The depression left them without hope and prospect. Having been reared in a secular environment, their faith in existing institutions stood on stand; they turned to Karl Marx as the prophet of the future.

The sensitive youth is rarely appreciated in his own environment where often ridicule is the response to the challenge of his differing personality. Thus, many of our young people, in those years, were caught in the frigid of a loneliness which drove them to the excitement of changing the world—changing it fast.

Whittaker Chambers is one of these thousands of young men and women. Some became Communists; some became spies; some became "leftists," which is a round term for disagreement with the state of the world as it is. In an earlier period, such young people might have become missionaries, settlement workers, labor leaders, muckraking journalists, fighters for causes.

Chambers is an extremely sensitive, artistic person who lives in philosophy and music and a love for life. And he did not find it in the life of the years of the depression in the world of his youth. His search was for a way to change the world by his own efforts with the sureness that it had to be changed.

His autobiography will be read as a fascinating story, but I do not think of his book as the story of a man but as a clinical report on a generation that went wrong. We need not limit our criticism of that generation to the Communists; even those who are not Communists often lack the spiritual values which sustained this nation for three centuries, but which we are losing. I often wonder what our children are being taught and why we blame them for not knowing what no one has exposed to them in their formative years. A tree will not be stronger than its roots.

Chambers became a spy against his own country. He did not spy for pay; he spied to change the world. His labors brought him poverty. When he realized the enormity of his crime, he did not change over to gain wealth by writing a book or to go on a lecture tour. He chose loneliness and poverty. Desperate for breath he was rescued by a job on "Time," but he was not converted for a job. He was converted because his soul demanded it.

When he exposed himself, the Statute of Limitations did not apply. This is an amazing phase of the story—a spy gives himself up to a high official of the State Department and nothing is done about it for ten years. When Chambers went to A. A. Berle, Jr. in 1939, he, in effect gave himself up. But the government did not want him. It took him 10 years to tell his story—the 10 most crucial years in American history the years of war and defeat.

What Whittaker Chambers' book, "Witness," conclusively proves to me is that youth, having lost its way, seeks grand adventure.

And what can be more adventuresome than secretly trying to change the whole world all alone? Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH
All the investigations and researches of the scientists have never uncovered a single instance of life having appeared on this earth except as a result of something living.

What the first life was like, and where it came from is a mystery which science has never explained. Religion, however, has gone at least one step farther back and said, "In the beginning God created..."

Back of every form of life is something living. Here is a sublime mystery, and a magnificent miracle.

Life Is Sacred

On one point the Bible, reason, experience, history, and law are all unanimously insistent—life is sacred, and must be treated with the most profound respect of which man is capable.

To take that which we cannot restore—to kill one whom we cannot recreate—is one of the most monstrous of sins, and is punishable with death according to the law of every civilized nation in the world. It is even a fact that entire states have abdicated all claim to the right to take life by abolishing capital punishment.

Murder Diversified

Almost any man would agree with the Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." A government that is not able to protect the lives of its citizens is unworthy of any man's loyalty.

But there are so many devious ways of killing.

There is the food adulterator, for example, who contrives to cut expenses by using unfit materials. And there is the drug manufacturer who debases his product because by so doing he makes his wares more profitable. Every civilized nation makes legal provision by which the public is to be protected against such as these.

And there is the mine owner who refuses or fails to install the proper protective devices to insure the safety of the miners. And there is the drinking driver who appears on the highway with alcohol in his bloodstream, a menace to every other driver on the road.

Murder has taken on so many new disguises.
The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for May 25: "God's Estimate of Human Life," (Temperance); Exodus 20: 13; Matthew 5:21-26; 18:1-6, 10-14; Mark 1:40-42; Luke 9:51-56; 12:4-7.

Death Dealers

One experience has been common among all cities that have tried to cope with the problem of the drinking driver. In those communities in which strict laws have been effectively enforced the rate of highway fatalities as a result of drinking-driving has been cut. In those communities in which "leniency" has been shown to the driver who had an accident while alcohol was present in his bloodstream the accident rate has gone up and fatalities have increased. Any police chief will testify that it is not the drunk but the drinker who is still able to manipulate the wheel who constitutes the highway hazard.

Very Personal

The problem of the alcoholic is a very personal one, especially to the alcoholic himself, and to his family (or her family, for alcoholism among women is rapidly increasing).

The liquor dealer must accept his responsibility as must also the newspaper which advertises intoxicants, the hostess who serves liquor on her table and sends her guests out unable to drive carefully and accurately, and the license committee which issues permits for the sale of intoxicants.

The whole question of the sanctity of human life is very intimately involved and God said, "Thou shalt not kill."

Feast of the Ascension Is Now Being Observed

Christian people do not often consider the events of the Christian year after the Festival of Easter.

The Resurrection of our Blessed Lord meant His return to this world and His frequent appearances to the Disciples convinced them of His triumph over Death and the gates of Hell. But, as He pointed out to them, it was necessary for Him to enter into the Eternity of God the Father in order that He might be available to all men, at all times, in all places. His earthly Body could appear only to a few.

own permanent place in the Calendar of the Christian Year.

The Feast Day of the Ascension is celebrated throughout Christendom on the fortieth day after Easter, the end of the Great Forty Days. It always falls on Thursday since Easter is always on Sunday. The liturgical color for the Festival is White, signifying the triumphant completion of our Lord's earthly ministry.

All Christian men and women should go to Church, or at any rate pause at noonday to pray and give thanks to Almighty God for the wonderful work of redemption which He has accomplished through the life and death, the resurrection and ascension of His Son, Jesus Christ.

His Eternal and Ascended Body could become available to all who call upon Him and believe in Him forever. Hence the Ascension of our Lord.

Also, we Christians forget that God lives in eternity. But we live in time. That is why it is difficult for us to grasp the true significance of the Ascension. There would have been little point to our Lord's work of redemption if it had applied only to this world of men and things, because some day this world and everything in it comes to an end, as must all creatures of time and space. But God's work never ends. Neither would it be enough for our own needs if our Christian blessings were confined to this life as we know it here because we anticipate with sturdy hope an eternal life hereafter.

THEREFORE, it was necessary that our Lord's work should be carried over into the realm of eternity. It does not mean that by some trick of magic our Lord was wafted up into the sky. There is nothing of physical direction about it. It is simply the final act in the drama of redemption. The best way we can express it in our human language is to say that He Ascended because in our human way we think of eternal life as a higher life. He had completed the work He came into the world to do. He had trained and commissioned His Apostles to carry it forward. Then He left them and returned to the spiritual Realm from which He had come, bearing the fruits of His incarnation with Him.

To be sure this is something of a mystery to us. With our human limitations we can scarcely expect to fathom the eternal purposes of God. Yet, we can see where something of the kind was logically necessary.

And so the early Christians, our worthy forbears in the Faith, understood the Ascension, and they recognized its right to a place in the ceaseless round of Christian remembrances.

AT FIRST it was closely identified with the Resurrection and Easter, and the two events may have been celebrated together. Saint Augustine (born 354 A. D.) indicated that it was in general observance long before his time. By the end of the fourth century we find that Ascension Day had its

New Drug To Aid Surgery Cases

CLEVELAND, May 23 — A Youngstown doctor says use of a new drug which controls blood pressure gives surgical patients a better chance of not dying on the operating table.

Dr. A. J. Fisher reported on the drug, hexamethonium bromide, Wednesday at the Ohio State Medical Association's annual meeting here. The drug, he said, acts by blocking cells of the autonomic nervous system which controls blood pressure. This, he said, gives a "dry" (comparatively bloodless) field in which to operate.

WCH Team Loses Softball Opener

The Hamilton Champion Paper Co. softballers won the opening exhibition game from the D. E. Wood team of Washington C. H. 3 to 1 at Wilson Field Thursday evening.

Most of the fans got a chance to limber up their dusty tonsils though, as both teams sparked good plays through the game.

The Wood team was in trouble on a couple of occasions, but was able to execute two double plays to cut off the threats.

Reid, the losing pitcher, had a little trouble with his control, but gave up only one hit, a double.

Bob Alkire had the only two hits made by the Woodmen, both of them doubles, off Fannin, the winning pitcher.

Bratton Favored Over Flanagan

NEW YORK, May 23—(P)—Johnny Bratton and Del Flanagan have been staging a battle of words all week. If they put as much fire in their punches tonight there may be some unexpected fireworks at Madison Square Garden.

The two welterweights clash in a 9 p. m. EST, 10-rounder which will be broadcast by ABC and telecast by NBC from coast to coast.

Bratton, on the basis of his smashing four-round knockout of Pierre Langlois three weeks ago, has been established favorite.

Pronto Don Seen Winner Of Trot

YONKERS, N. Y., May 23—(P)—Pronto Don will rule the favorite Friday night when the field gets off in the $10,000 New Rochelle Trot at Yonkers Raceway's Grand Circuit meeting.

The Duquoin, Ill., galloper has won 17 in a row and a victory in this one would boost his earnings over the $200,000 mark. Pronto Don will go against practically the same field he beat in the Mount Vernon Trot last week.

Direct Rhythm edged the Black Prince and Floating Dream to win the $8,400 U. S. Harness Writers Trophy Pace, Thursday night's feature, in 2:03.

Congress Shuns Aid To Baseball

WASHINGTON, May 23 — (P)—Organized baseball got the word Friday it will have to worry about anti-trust laws without help from Congress.

A House Judiciary Subcommittee shelved three bills which would have exempted the professional game from monopoly curbs.

The group, after taking a close-up look at baseball's front office operations and its own legal setup, decided to keep hands off the sport.

The committee's report said it is convinced the sport, to get along profitably, has to have some form of the reserve clause.

BUT HOW...AT THE PRICE OF "REGULAR"?

Here's how: Marathon's modern catalytic cracking unit gets more actual road power out of every gallon of crude than ever before thought possible.

Here's proof: On the road—under actual driving conditions—tests show that Marathon "Cat" Gasoline delivers an even higher octane rating than it does in the laboratory.

Here's the difference: Similar tests reveal that the average gasoline falls two points short of its laboratory rating, when measured on the road. Any reason why you should be missing out on the extra Road Power in Marathon "Cat"?

Fourteen members of the Business and Professional Women's Club here today had completed arrangements for attending at least some of the more important sessions of the organization's national convention in Dayton this weekend.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes

Ten of them are delegates and four are alternates. The delegates are Mrs. Martha Bireley, Miss Florence Cook, Miss Jean Everhart, Mrs. Helen Graham, Miss Jeanette Haver, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Miss Mary Francis Snider, Miss Edith Wilson and Mrs. Wanda Wilson. The alternates are Mrs. Nellie Cheadle, Mrs. Eva Miller, Mrs. Mae Schleich and Miss Frances White.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Texas, the national president of the B&PW is to give the principal address of the convention at the Saturday night banquet in the Biltmore Hotel. Her subject is to be: "Full Partnership for Peace."

JUDGE HUGHES is a graduate of Goucher College, Baltimore, with an LL.D degree from there and also holds an LL.B from George Washington University in Washington D. C. In 1922 she was admitted to the District of Columbia Bar and the Texas Bar and in 1937 was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. She received the Alumni Achievement Award from George Washington University in 1937 and the East Texas Chamber of Commerce gave her an award in 1941 for distinguished service in county government.

She has been president of Dallas Business and Professional Women's Club and of the Texas Federation.

It is the first time in many years that Ohio has been honored by having the national president at the state convention.

The convention will open Friday evening with a concert by the 661st Air Force band. Workshops, exhibits, business sessions, and election of officers are scheduled for Saturday.

Van Wert Cop Shoots Teenager

VAN WERT, May 23.—(AP)—Police shot and wounded a 14-year-old Detroit boy and captured his two companions today after a wild chase through the streets of Van Wert.

Patrolman Thomas Sullivan said the boys told him the car they were driving was stolen in Findlay Wednesday night. The patrolman said the youths admitted stealing three automobiles since leaving Detroit about 9 p. m. Wednesday.

A bullet fired by Sullivan struck Robert Klaes in the mouth. He is reported in fair condition at Van Wert County Hospital. His brother, Raymond 16, and John Washam, 14, also of Detroit, were held in county jail.

The next meeting is to be a picnic, June 17, at the home of Mrs. Herbolzheimer.

FFA Awards To Fayette County

Three Honors For Young Farmers Here

Two young Fayette County farmers have been honored by being nominated among a total of 197 FFA members from 133 chapters in Ohio for State Farmer degrees this year. There is a total of 322 chapters in the state.

One is Hugh E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson, residing on the Greenfield-Sabina Road, a senior in Washington High School. He represents the Washington C. H. Chapter of FFA.

The other is LeVern Bock, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Bock of the Jeffersonville community. He is 17 years of age and a junior this year in Jeffersonville High School. He represents the Jeffersonville Chapter of FFA.

Both these young men have fine school and agricultural records and are declared to be well deserving of the honor accorded them.

Another Fayette County man to be honored by the FFA this year is Don Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Woods, who is to be awarded a $200 scholarship at the OSU, among four in Ohio to receive such awards from the Farm Underwriters Association. Woods resides in the northern part of the county near the Madison Mills community.

Awards, elections and presentation of honorary degrees to recipients from over the state take place next week, May 27-29 at Ohio State University where FFA association holds its annual state convention and judging contests.

These awards represent the highest honors presented by the state organization. Only two percent of the total FFA membership in Ohio is eligible to receive such awards each year.

Final Tribute Paid Mrs. W. A. Tharp

Relatives and old friends gathered at the Gerstner Funeral Home here at 2 P. M. Thursday to pay their final tributes to Mrs. W. A. Tharp, a lifelong resident of the community.

Rev. Sanford Lindsey, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, conducted the simple but impressive ceremony at the funeral home and for the committal. Rev. Lindsey read the Episcopal burial ritual from the church book of Common Prayer, a prepared memorial tribute and passages selected by the family.

The flowers which banked the casket as mute symbols of affection and friendship were taken care of by the pallbearers, who bore the casket to its final resting place in the Washington C. H. Cemetery. They were J. Roush Burton, Richard R. Willis, Sr., Walter Hutton, John McMurray, Edward Cunningham and Thomas Murray.

TRUCKER JAILED
WILMINGTON - George Quinn, 22, Bucyrus, truck driver, was fined $149.80 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for having 6,240 pounds overweight, and $25 for failing to obey an officer.

Frank Emery Dies After Short Illness

Frank Emery, 97, died at the Carr Nursing Home at 6:15 o'clock Friday morning after three weeks of serious illness.

A retired farmer of Highland County, he had made his home with his sons and daughters. Much of the time was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Emery in Washington C. H. where he had made many friends.

Mr. Emery had been in unusually good health until about two years ago, when it began to fail. His condition became serious about a month ago; that was when he was taken to the Carr Nursing Home where he could receive constant care and attention.

Mrs. Emery died in 1942.

He is survived by four sons, Perry and Elmer of Highland County, Homer of Washington C. H., Alva of Waynesville, and three daughters, Mrs. Ray Vaughn of Cincinnati, Mrs. Effie Euerard of Danville (near Hillsboro) and Mrs. Myrtle McNeil of Hillsboro.

Funeral services are to be held at 2:30 P. M. Sunday at the Christian Church in Danville, of which Mr. Emery was a charter member. Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church here, is to conduct the services.

Interment is to be in the Danville Cemetery under the direction of the Roberts Funeral Home of Mowerytown.

Jolly Leader Club Plans for Future

Kemp Allemang, president, presided over the meeting of the Jolly Fayette Leaders Club in the Farm Bureau auditorium. Up for discussion were the different points that should be brought out during the year's program, what should be learned at the meetings and parliamentary procedure.

The club divided up into four groups and each group had to list ten points that should be talked about during the year. A committee was appointed to pick the subject it considered most interesting and do the most good.

A committee of Kemp Allemang and Betty Barton was appointed to lead in singing at the next meeting.

Plans made were to draft a calendar for the year.

Recreation for the evening was led by Jo Ann Cleland.

The next meeting is to be June 3 at the Farm Bureau. The hosts will be Betty Barton, Larry Cleland and Jo Ann Cleland. The advisor is Albert Cobb.

Child Welfare Board Change

Mrs. Sam Parrett Will Fill Vacancy

Mrs. Sam R. Parrett, 610 Yeoman Street, has been appointed as a member of the Fayette County Child Welfare Board, to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Willard F. Story, because of ill health.

Mrs. Parrett probably will assume her place on the board at its next meeting, June 2.

Other members of the board are Percie Kennell, Mrs. Richard Willis, Willard Perrill and I. L. Booco. Mrs. Pauline Swope is executive secretary.

At an early date, it is reported, the board will hold a conference with the county commissioners to ascertain whether it will be possible to secure county funds to make some urgent improvements in the Fayette County Children's Home. The board has been securing estimates of work which it deems necessary to be done there as early as possible.

Several Arrested During Thursday

Police and the state highway patrol picked up several persons for alleged violation of the traffic laws Thursday. Two intoxicated persons also were arrested.

Wilbert I. Yaegers, 47, Cincinnati, posted $20 bond after having been arrested while allegedly traveling 70 miles an hour on the CCC Highway.

Aaron Oliver Bell, Jr., 30, Columbus, was halted at 50 miles an hour on Clinton Avenue. He posted $50 bond.

Roger Allen filed an affidavit against Louise Tolle, proprietor of the "Blue Moon Inn," claiming he was denied accommodations in the place. Hearing is to be held later.

Robert Jenkins, for repeated offenses, was sent to the Cincinnati Workhouse for 30 days and fined the costs on an intoxication charge. He was taken to the institution Thursday.

Municipal Court Hours Announced

Donald Flanders, clerk of the municipal court, said Friday that effective June 1 the municipal court here would be closed Thursday afternoons.

At the present time the office is closed Saturday afternoons, but when the new rule becomes effective it will be closed both Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

On other days, except Sundays, the office hours are 8 A. M. to 12 and 1 P. M. to 4:30 P. M.

Memorial Day

Every village and community in Fayette County and preparations for carrying them out are now in the final stages, too.

Cemeteries throughout the county, from the largest to the small burial plots, will be remembered with flowers by the hundreds who make the annual pilgrimages to the graves of their friends and forebear.

Inasmuch as Memorial Day is the one set aside each year for special recognition of the country's war dead and those who served the nation in its armed forces, flowers and flags will be on the graves of the nation's heroic dead.

THE PAUL H. HUGHEY post of the American Legion here has taken the lead in a revival of the movement of long standing to have an American flag on every soldier's grave in Fayette County.

Richard Kelly, the post commander, said the post had grave-marking flags for all those who want them. They will be given without charge for that purpose, he added.

The Legion commander also expressed the hope that everyone would display a flag on Memorial Day and then emphasized "display it properly."

If there is any question about how to display the American flag, he said, the Legion post is ready to give the answers. He pointed out that only clean flags and those in good condition should be displayed.
